IRS Enrolled Agent Course

The IRS Special Enrollment Examination is offered annually. It has three parts, and candidates must take all three the first year.

In 2006, the IRS chose global testing firm Thomson Prometric to develop and administer a computer-based version of the exam on behalf of the IRS.Â The previous exam had four sections, but the IRS accepted the recommendation of Thomson, and the new version of the exam has three parts:Â Â

- Part 1 - Individuals

- Part 2 - Businesses

- Part 3 - Representation, Practice and Procedures
